

Law and Public Safety (Non-Degree)

Explore Program

Continuing education at Central Piedmont provides advanced and in-service training for all public safety professions. Offerings include the college's American Academy of Applied Forensics (AAAF) training for law enforcement as well as Emergency Medical Technician (EMT) and Paramedic training.

The program includes training for law enforcement and Fire and Rescue municipal and volunteer agencies. Public safety continuing education courses are typically offered at the Claudia Watkins Belk Center for Justice on the Merancas Campus.

Fire Services Training

General Information

Central Piedmont offers Fire Services Training for Fire and Rescue municipal and volunteer agencies. Courses are offered through Public Safety continuing education to earn certifications.

Registration

The North Carolina Community College System has mandated that all students/firefighters must complete a fire registration form prior to the first day of any class offered.

Email the completed registration form to continuing education customer service or fax to 704-330-4222. You must sign the form. If Customer Services does not receive your form before the start of class, you will not be registered.

For class information, visit Law and Public Safety Continuing Education.

For questions, email Lewis McSwain, director of Fire and Emergency Services, or call 704-330-4115.